SameGoal Email Subject Line Change
August 29, 2025

We wanted to make our users aware that we recently updated the subject lines for emails from SameGoal. Moving forward, if you receive an email from SameGoal, it may look slightly different than what you're used to. Email subjects will now have "SameGoal" included at the end of the subject line as opposed to having "SameGoal" at the beginning of the subject line.

For example, previously, email subject lines had the following structure:

SameGoal | <short description of email topic>

Now, email subject lines have the following structure:

<short description of email topic> | SameGoal

This change will help clarify the purpose of an email by listing the topic first, and will make it easier for people to search for a particular email.

Password Reset | Example User, Cherry Grove Local | SameGoal
Login Authorization Code | SameGoal

Additionally, guardian share emails (emails sent to guardians when someone from the district electronically shares a document with them) will have the district's name listed first. This will help make it very clear to them that the documentation is coming from their child's school.

Cherry Grove Local | Evaluation Team Report (rev 2/2018) | Document Share | SameGoal
Cherry Grove Local | Individualized Education Program (rev 2/2018) | Document Share | SameGoal

Examples of emails from SameGoal that have an updated subject line include (but are not limited to):

- Guardian Shares
- Login Authorization Codes
- Translation Requests: Form Translation, Document Translation
- Password Updates: Password Set, Password Reset, Password Change
- Account Updates: New Account, Account Update
- Notifications: Document Share, Guardian Activity, etc.

Tip SameGoal <noreply@mail.samegoal.com> will still be listed as the sender of automated SameGoal emails.
