MFA Is Now Required

MFA Is Now Required
July 5, 2024

SameGoal has long supported multi-factor authentication through the use of OIDC, but we now also offer email-based multi-factor authentication for users that do not use OIDC.

The use of MFA is now required for all districts and the reauthentication interval has been set to Monthly for districts that have not already enabled MFA, but district administrators may choose to require users to reauthenticate more frequently. To do so, go to Settings > District Information > scroll to Multi-Factor Authentication, and change the required interval.

When a user needs to reauthenticate, after they provide their login information, SameGoal will send a verification code to their account email, and they will be prompted to provide their verification code before they can log in.
