

Agreement to Waive Reevaluation

Waive reevaluation

Special education students typically need to be reevaluated every three years, but if the IEP team reviews a student's progress and determines that no additional data is needed to determine whether the student continues to be a child with a disability, the school can request permission from the parents to waive the reevaluation.

Steps To get permission to waive reevaluation:

- 1. Create an Agreement to Waive Reevaluation.
- 2. Fill out the document and provide a reason why the district is proposing to waive reevaluation.
- 3. Add contact information.
- 4. Share the document with the parents.
- 5. The parent can then fill out the document and add their signature.
- 6. When the parent returns the document, mark it complete.
